29 John St. North (John Street Café)

The commercial streetscape on John Street North between King and King Williams Streets was home to a concentration of trade-related businesses in the late-19th and early-20th century. 29 John Street North was constructed in the mid-19th century and was the site of a number of tinsmiths including Hannan & Brother in the 1860s. 29 John Street North was also the site of a series of hotels including Demarco Hotel in the late-19th century and the Metropole Hotel in the early-20th century. In 2012, 29 John Street North housed the Corner Tea House & Asian Bistro. It is now the home of John Street Diner.
